There is a scarcity of machine learning resources available in Hindi. Here, I have collected 37 resources which are definitely worth your try. If you want to learn machine learning, these resources will surely make your life easier. Enjoy! Arshdeep Bansal Content Writer & Professional Blogger I like Science, Technology, Mathematics and Physics. I like programming, blogging and social networking. I am also interested in Cricket.

So, I have divided the information into three parts, one part for each three categories of programming languages. If you are interested in learning about other programming languages, stay tuned for the next two articles! Please feel free to add links of any additional resources that you find useful. I will add them in these articles and also keep an eye on them for my readers.
