I have downloaded and installed the latest version of MinGW (from the homepage) and made sure it's working correctly (I can compile and run simple.exe files, like Notepad). I'm now trying to do what you would expect for a college student: build. I'm a little bit confused as to how to go about this. When I go to File/New/... and select the 'Project from existing code' option, I get a dialog asking to choose an existing project to continue. I chose a pre-existing project that i had written in Java, but after doing so I get the following message: Cannot complete the install because a required assembly is missing:
file:///C:/Users/DEFINE/Documents/workspace/brain5/Debug/Brain5.exe. So i assume that my Eclipse installation
