

"The application failed to start because its side configuration is incorrect. Please check the application event log or use the command line sxstrace.exe ...". I should say that I am not familiar with sxstrace.exe, and it is not a tool I use often at all. I have two things I have tried to do to fix this problem: 1. I added a "faulty" line to the event log (not sure if that helped); 2. I tried running the application from the command line sxstrace.exe with the following command: sxstrace.exe -wait -log file:/Path/To/TestApp.log After running this command, the following message appears:
