You've done an impressive job and our whole community will be grateful to you.Q: How can i access image array in php I have following image array how can i access image array and see the images. $image = array("Image" => array(0 => "someurl", 1 => "someurl", 2 => "someurl", 3 => "someurl", 4 => "someurl", 5 => "someurl", 6 => "someurl",),); I'm using this function foreach($image['Image'] as $image) { echo $image; } What is wrong with this code? A: To iterate over all values in $image['Image'] foreach ($image['Image'] as $key => $value) { // value is an array of the keys of each sub-array echo $value[0]; } Or to iterate over all images foreach ($image['Image'] as $key => $value) { echo $value[0]; } More information about foreach (and array) you can read here and here. Also, I recommend you to change your array. Array should be indexed with integer keys. Try to change $image = array("Image" => array(0 => "someurl", 1 => "someurl", 2 => "someurl",
