MONSTERLAND ~ A 2D 3d 8 bit pixel-platform adventure game in which you are a young orphan. You must explore 5 different worlds - a frozen icy world, a forest world, a swamp world, a desert world, and the forest/swamp world to find a way home. The 5 worlds were once villages full of people and now the monsters have eaten them all and now it's up to you to save your world. If you're looking for an action-packed, science-fiction-themed screensaver, then R.U.N.K.ET X (or R.U.N.K.ET: Enemy Territory) should meet your needs. Pick your weapons up off the ground and join a selection of bright-eyed heroes from different parts of the Earth as you engage in skirmishes with a host of enemy aliens. Brief history of the game: Newton Zastrow (Argentina) started working on this project as a student of Buenos Aires Technological University. His goal was to create a fun and interesting game for the Amiga 400 platform. This game was brought to the attention of a publisher, who thought that this game could be of commercial interest. Thus the first version of this game was called R.U.N.K.ET (short for Raid in New Krois) and was released in 1986.
