The app works as before, but as it is a paid app, some of the features of Google chat are not included. For example, voice and video calls are still missing, and you'll have to connect to WeChat using the Google chat app. WeChat's new features: The messages and chat bubbles from your friends and their messages to you will be shown in a new layout. For example, you may see a chat bubble from someone who is located in Singapore with a question about global markets, and if you choose to answer it, a different bubble will be displayed from the same person on the other side of the globe with a stock update that has been flagged for you. ]]>
