IBM ThinkPad with the standard BIOS and a 3.2 megapixel still camera (with my cell phone data service). I was able to get the entire program up and running in less than an hour. During this time I was able to enter over 1000 forms with at least one form per day. I am simply amazed at what can be done with this program. Like many users I have over the years have my own form filler that I prefer to use instead of the generally frustrating and time consuming manner of filling the standard forms that are found on the web. To use FormZilla you simply enter the website you wish to access and then select the form from the list. If you have already filled forms with FormZilla you can review them in the list of filled forms. I was able to find the forms I was looking for at no time and this was not an easy task. Using FormZilla I was able to fill in the standard information of some of the old forms. From memory I recall that I was able to fill in basic information, select from my saved list of key words, images, including the site of origin and my name and organization. Using FormZilla's form filler was simply a matter of clicking the submit button and all the information I had entered was submitted. It was interesting to note that the site still presented 09e8f5149f

FormZilla is a full blown Internet Browser Helper, which is an all-in-one form filling, password manager, form browser, Internet search engines organizer and user information archive.
