FIFA '22 introduces HyperMotion Technology to bring a sense of authenticity to the ball physics of every player on the field, while also creating a host of other new gameplay features. HyperMotion Technology has been implemented throughout the game to deliver not only the true ball physics, but to enable players to run and sprint more naturally and to control the ball more effectively. A new attacking strategy also introduces “ribbon cuts” - a new type of attack using a combination of ball movement, short passes and dribbling. “The game has also been updated to support up to 64 players on a single team,” he added. “And to further enhance the authenticity of the experience, four player modes and six game modes have been added, including FIFA Women’s World Cup France 2019™ - now playable with up to 6 vs 6 matches.” Verstappen said: “HyperMotion Technology has been one of the most requested features for the FIFA series, and it’s great to see this come to life in FIFA '22.” “Thanks to this technology, the experience of FIFA has evolved further than ever before. The new simulation of the ball physics - which not only feels smoother and ‘real’ but also enables players to run more naturally - means you can more freely express yourself.” FIFA Ultimate Team is also receiving gameplay tweaks. Players now benefit from two individual strengths ratings which are applied when players participate in long-range shots. If a player has two individual strengths, their penalty-kicker rating will be increased and their long-range-shooters rating will also be increased. In addition to this, defenders have now been given the option to “unavoidably block” shots, when they feel they have been fouled, enabling a more varied defensive experience. “We’re also making a number of small gameplay tweaks and enhancements, including to the ability to earn XP and unlock new content, as well as a new feature in Career Mode that allows you to earn experience in order to unlock special items,” he explained. “FIFA Ultimate Team is something we’re known for, and it remains a very important part of FIFA development, so we’re making a number of improvements, such as in our new and improved MyClub feature – an area which we’ve had a lot of positive feedback on

Features Key:

- HyperMotion Technology – Offering accurate, responsive and fully-realistic gameplay and animations for ground-based players.
- In-Game Avatars – Be the envy of your team with an all-new log-on avatar. Create any player in FIFA Ultimate Team including pack-in players in the game.
- Referee and Decider Tools – All FIFA-recognized referees and the new goalkeeper AI will review and instantly award penalties and free kicks. Players and goalkeepers are given visual cues that preview the contact for a ball during goal kicks.
- Player Instincts – Face more unpredictable defenders with more realistic feints and more subtle flexibility movements.
- Reemergent Behaviors – Realistic, reactive player animations lead to the new ‘Reemergent Behaviors.’ During duels, players use a player-determined blend of evasive/dodging and strength to decide how to tackle and win the ball.
- eSports – Quick online play through Xbox LIVE allows fans to jump in and out of any online match to watch for free.
- Dribbling Tournament – Go head-to-head with your opponents to see who is the most creative dunker.
- Online Friendlies – Take on friends and practice against real opposition using the new Online Friendlies Scenario. Improved online play across all modes. Includes 7 FIFA Pro Evolutions, FIFA Ultimate Team and FIFA Ultimate Draft packs.
- Explore The Journey – As you manage your team, you discover the stories and journeys of the Pro's journey to glory. Grow your collection to 162 Elites, add to your Legend squad, bid for and win unique PES items, and even collaborate with other FIFA fans.
- Move The Ball – With FIFA at heart, we've focused on gameplay and made the ball feel more alive. Put your skills to the test and control and manipulate the ball with enhanced new dribbling moves
- Build Your Dream Squad – When you start out in Football Manager, you build the squad you want. In FIFA, you do it your way. With more ways to play, prepare your club to compete at the highest level and build your dream squad.

What's new:

- PLAYER DEMANDS Add a range of new and exciting characters to your FIFA Ultimate Team, and unlock new, cool customisation options including fitness and injury ratings that give you even more control over the style of your players. Go online and see who's waiting for you in the FUT Champions League, too.
- Football Clubs There are 21 football clubs across Europe, representing the countries where football is most popular. You can choose a Club jersey, but can't design the shirt.
- TANGECCO CEO takes on China Indian manufacturing company, Tangential Edge Co (TECO) has taken on China by engineering a new kick-starting plan for the Indian technology industry. In June last year, TECO launched its brand new website, along with a new advertisement campaign giving it greater visibility, scope and authority. At the time of launch, the company was delighted to announced that "Tangential Edge will primarily be focussed on India and the rest of the world as we focus on elevating India to its rightful place in the technology industry. We are a top public company where the best technology expertise in India is housed". Initially, Tom Crofter, the company's CEO, is reported in Business Standard magazine as saying: "Next year, we aim to achieve strategic product customers, couple that with a strong distributor and distribution network for India, and we look to expand from there." According to the company's own 'year to 2016' prospectus circulated in financial year 2014-15 Tangential Edge had achieved a turnover of INR223 crore, a growth rate of about 4% over the previous financial year, and sales of over INR102 crore, a growth of 36% over the preceding financial year. However, a statement from TECO this week suggests that the company is focusing on what is changing in the large, developing markets for emerging technologies, like the internet, e-commerce, social networking and the mobile phone applications each of these emerging markets brings to the table. The company seems to be predicting that the start-up of these sectors in the last few years is about to take off, with the front-end of the process - the custom development projects - now approaching their climax. This is accompanied by 'second phase' projects - generally developed locally but ready-made hardware
