...and that's just the beginning. If you would like to search through the program's complete features, you may click on the Help icon to a simple index of all the program's Help topics. The Help documents cover the following sections: ...and that's only half the Help file. Back to the index of all the Help topics. The other half of the Help file simply lists all the various features of the program, ...and that's not the Help index. If you would like to try out the program as it is packaged, you may use the freely supplied "Start-Up" floppy disk that comes with the program. When you first open Client Tracks, you will be presented with a menu listing ten configuration screens, with settings for main, address, and link. Choose a screen (by clicking the settings screen you want to open), and you can then click on a choice from the next screen. In this way, you can navigate through all the configuration menus in about a minute. Close the Help document and click on the "Start-Up" floppy disk icon to start the installation. Once installed, the Help system should make opening help fast and easy. ..and it does. Conclusion: If you need a full-featured contact management application that even has pretty user-friendly programming features, look no further than Client Tracks. Computer software to track clients. The program automatically sets up and tracks the schedules of your clients. Tracks status for each client and notes if due for billing and service. Configures itself and tracks the upcoming schedules of your clients. Computer software for scheduling clients automatically and for tracking schedules and notes. I recommend this product. Most of the programs that do this are just too expensive, and how many of us can afford three thousand bucks for such a small utility program? But, if you're one of those I've been talking about and want a way to do exactly what I'm describing, check out this great little program. Client Tracks Description: A little computer software for scheduling customers and tracking schedules. The program automatically sets up and tracks the schedules of your clients. It automatically configures itself and tracks the upcoming schedules of your clients. The program will automitically prioritize the customers that you can't get to in time, thereby cutting down on the amount of time you have to spend on clients who are not so important. This program is the perfect compromise between price and functionality. Client Tracks came highly recommended by many of my clients and it's one of those programs that really does work just as advertised. You'll love it. This is a wonderful program, no question about it. But one of my clients recently made a little mistake while running Client Tracks. It happened because he entered an email address that he copied from the record in his cellphone, but not the address that he put in Client Tracks. The effect was that Mr. Smith's activities went away. The only clue to his dilemma was a conspicuous empty spot on his desktop. Fortunately, another of my clients caught on before this problem became a disaster. In any event, this program is good, and worth the money. The functions are easy to learn and I used it to track our clients. It is very easy to export and import the data. It does not have a good color scheme or use images well. I recommend this product. I'm happy with Client Tracks. The program is easy to use and intuitive. The author has done a great job of making the program easy to use and they have updated it just in time. I love that I can get a sense of how well I'm doing and where I can make improvements. That said, my only two complaints with this program are that you have to
